It is important we are able to read each other's faces in order to offer verbal and nonverbal support such as facial expressions. In this video, Kathleen sits in gum and appears upset. Kathleen's friends do not correctly read her facial expression and think it's funny and start to laugh at her.

How does Kathleen feel after she sits in gum?

After her friends laugh at her, how does Kathleen feel?

List three ways you can support a friend in this type of situation.
(Keep in mind – you must have a big heart and social mind).
